

Cherry Island Golf Course is an eighteen-hole, par 72 public golf course that is nearly 6,600 yards in length from the championship tees.

Designed by prestigious golf course architect Robert Muir Graves, Cherry Island opened for play on June 1, 1990. Cherry Island is one of three courses owned by the County of Sacramento and is named for the cherry orchards that once occupied this land.

This modern course, with large, undulating greens and pristine surroundings will challenge golfers of every age and ability level.

Cherry Island also boasts superior practice facilities with a 25 stall grass tee driving range, a practice bunker, and two chipping/putting greens.
